

Moving the Defense: a replicated temporal footprint of localized defensive movement

Panel A: deterministic heldout Metrica Game 2 anchor at 2336.04 s (earliest eligible anchor at or above the upper quartile of preceding attacker path; selection uses attacker movement only).

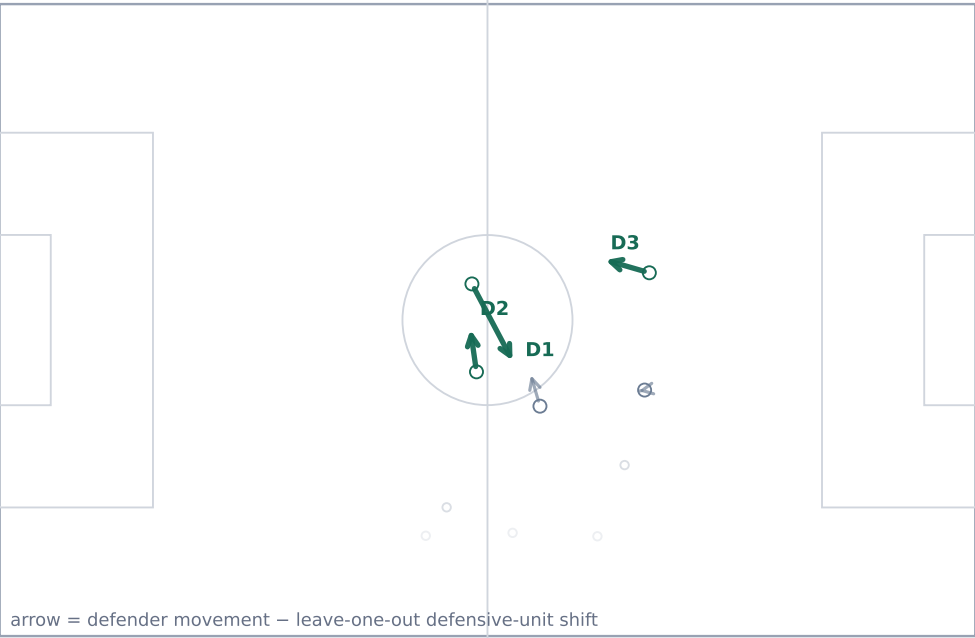

A1 Exposure: preceding attacker movement

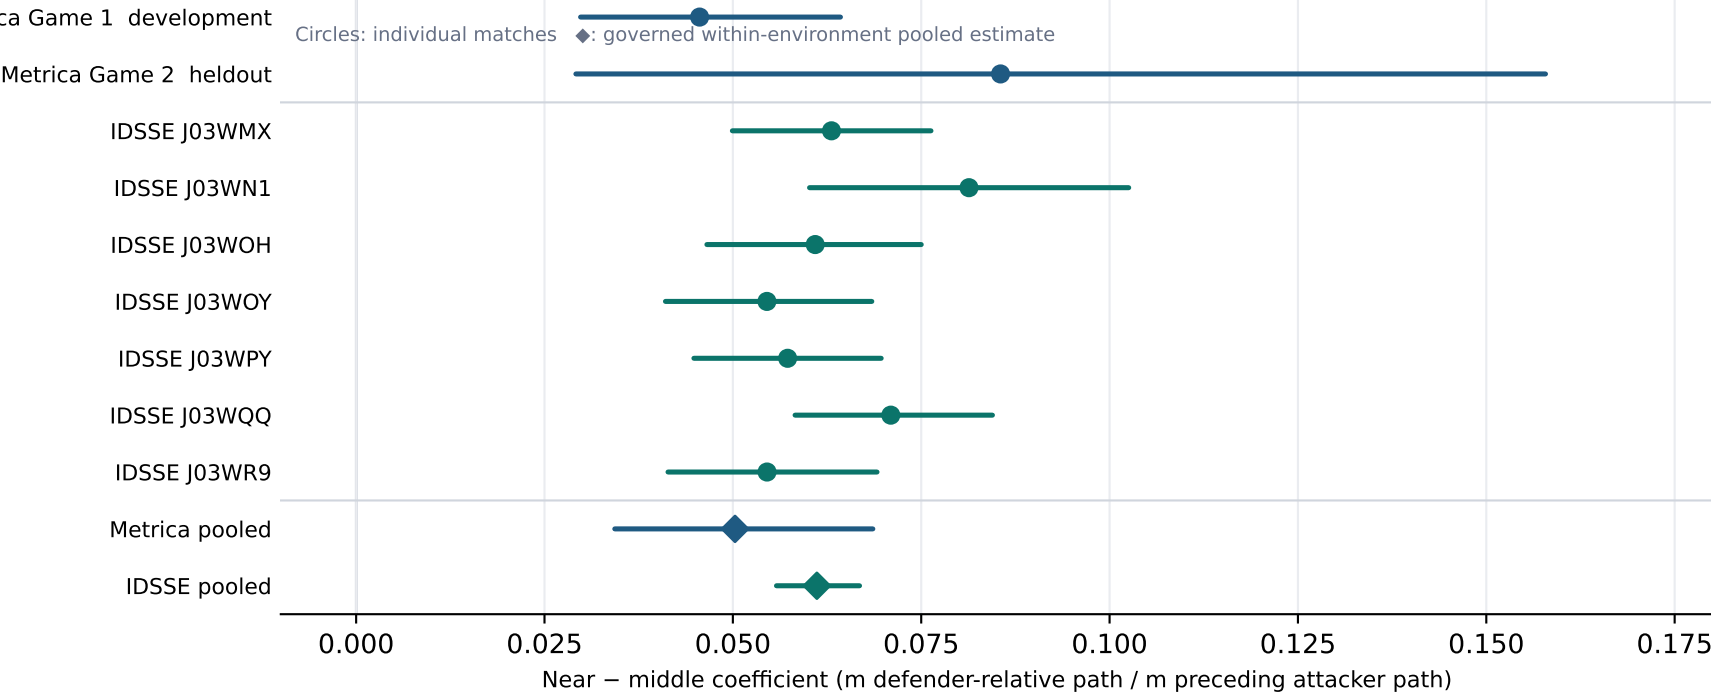

A2 Next 2 s: absolute defender movement

A3 Same movement relative to the defensive unit

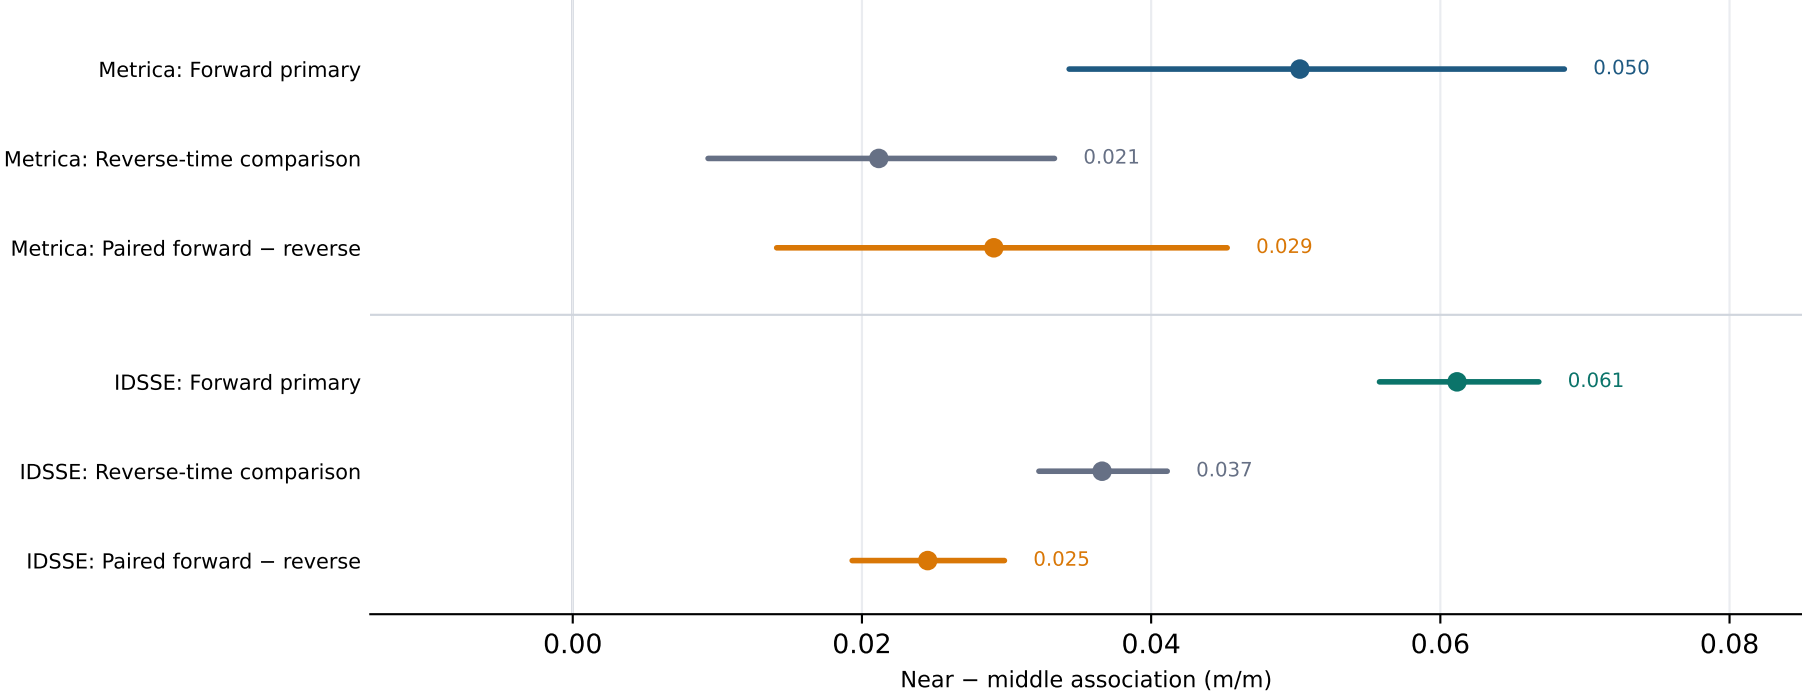

B The time-ordered footprint replicates across matches

Replicated, localized time-ordered defensive footprint. Not established: causation, tactical meaning, opportunity, or value.

C Forward association exceeds reverse time

Reverse-time structure remains positive. The evidence is paired forward – reverse excess, not a reverse-time null.